ABOUT US
Health In Harmony is a nonprofit organization working to reverse deforestation of tropical rainforests as a solution to global heating. We do this by partnering with communities in and around rainforests, who often have to log, mine, or poach for the cash to pay for healthcare-related emergencies. Health In Harmony's Radical Listening™ approach facilitates community-designed solutions, such as primary healthcare, organic farming skills, reforestation, and small business creation. These solutions preserve tropical rainforests: reversing climate change, improving rainforest community wellbeing, and protecting biodiversity.

Health In Harmony started working in Indonesia in 2007, and in 2019 it expanded to Brazil and Madagascar. In Indonesia, since 2007, Health In Harmony has reduced the number of logging households surrounding Gunung Palung National Park by 90%, reduced infant mortality by 67%, and protected $65 million worth of above ground carbon (Jones et al, PNAS, 2020). These results give Health In Harmony the confidence to scale its model in other rainforests around the world.

We are seeking a motivated, compassionate person to train in our innovative and effective Radical Listening methodology and then deploy to tropical rainforest communities. This person will act as a representative of the global community to hear what communities need as a thank you to protect these climate- and biodiversity-critical ecosystems. The Radical Listener will then upload the solutions for living in balance with the rainforests that the communities design through Radical Listening to the Rainforest Exchange platform to connect with global citizens and funding.

Health In Harmony is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to equity as a core organizational value. Applicants should be able to demonstrate a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Applicants from diverse communities and communities of color are strongly encouraged to apply.
